The African e-Journals Project has digitized full text of articles of eleven social science and humanities journals. This item is from the digital archive maintained by Michigan State University Library. Find more at: http://digital.lib.msu.edu/projects/africanjournals/

Available through a partnership with

Scroll down to read the article.
Notes to Contributors

PULA is a journal devoted to the study of Africa, particularly Southern Africa. It is published twice a year, in an annual Volume consisting of two Numbers. We welcome clearly expressed contributions, which cross disciplinary boundaries, from scholars anywhere in the world. Articles are refereed by at least two scholarly readers.

The present publication dates are June for No 1 of the annual Volume, and December for No 2. This means final copy dates for printing of April 1st for No 1 and October 1st for No 2, and editorial submission dates for manuscripts at least a month before April 1st and October 1st.

Papers for consideration should be sent to the Editor (currently <mazondei@mopipi.ub.bw>) with a copy to the Assistant Editor (currently <muaunde@mopipi.ub.bw>). Papers should be original contributions to scholarship written in English, not previously published. Papers which are too specialized in one academic discipline are unlikely to be accepted. If a paper is under consideration for publication elsewhere, this must be clearly indicated by the author.

Subject to the directions of the Editorial Board, all contributions are passed to at least two scholarly referee readers after initial consideration of their suitability by the Editors. We aim to get back to authors within eight weeks after initial acknowledgement. If the paper is accepted for publication, final copy is required in electronic form or on diskette.

Length and Format of Papers for Consideration

Papers should be 4000 to 6000 words in length, with an abstract of up to 150 words at the beginning. Authors should where possible submit their papers to the Editors electronically, so that copies can be referred electronically to referee readers. Please paste the paper into a normal email text rather than sending it as a virus-prone attachment---and type Notes and References as end text, not using any "hidden text" or automatic footnote function. (Hard copies as well as electronic copies are usually required for charts and illustrations.)

Notes should be serially numbered from 1 onwards, and listed after the main text of the paper. Your full address including email, and any acknowledgements, should be placed as an unnumbered note at the head of the Notes. References should be listed alphabetically after the Notes.

Bibliographic citations within the main text and within Notes should be abbreviated, as in Tlou (1973:123-24) or (Tlou, 1973: 123-24).

Full bibliographic citations within the References should follow the following style:

BOOK (i.e. published with an ISBN or produced for sale)

ARTICLE (in a periodical)

CHAPTER (in a book)

UNPUBLISHED PAPER (preferably stating library location)

THESIS OR DISSERTATION (preferably with finding aid)
Letamo, Gobopamang (1994) 'Proximate Determinants of Fertility in Botswana' Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, Ohio: PhD [University Microfilms International ref. 9527669]

ARCHIVES (i.e. with clear details for retrieval)
South African National Archives, Cape Town Archives Repository (1823): Series OPB 1/2 ("Papers relative to the Treatment of the Native Inhabitants of Southern Africa"), Donald Moodie to Gregory, 10 Dec. 1823
3. Editorial Note
I. Mazonde

T. Maundeni & G. Mookodi

K. Osei-Hwedie

19. An Exploration of the Prospects of Street Vending to Contribute Towards the Vision of Prosperity for all by 2016
I.M. Jimu

31. Finding the ‘Missing’ Male in Gender Discourses in Botswana
G. Mookodi and D. Fuh

43. The Boy Child & HIV in Botswana: A Neglected Issue in Research and Practice
T. Maundeni

55. The Dynamics of Domestic Violence Against Women in Botswana
G. Mookodi

65. Personnel Transfers: Experiences of Batswana Teachers
D.M. Ntseane

77. At the Cross Roads: Family, Youth Deviance and Crime Control in Botswana
K. T. O. Balogi

88. Special Education in Botswana: Social inclusion or exclusion?
A.G. Hopkin

103. Are Social Workers Needed in Botswana Schools? Some Food for Thought
T. Maundeni and D. Ntseane

Pula: Botswana Journal of African Studies is published by the Office of Research and Development, University of Botswana, Private Bag UB00708, Gaborone, Botswana. tel (+267) 355-2904; fax (+267) 357573;
email: kebaaget@mopipi.ub.bw

Pula: Botswana Journal of African Studies is distributed by the email: ivy@ebs.info.bw fax: (+267) 3900462; tel (+267) 3904283.

web-site: http://schapera.fws1.com/pula

ISSN 0256-2316