The African e-Journals Project has digitized full text of articles of eleven social science and humanities journals. This item is from the digital archive maintained by Michigan State University Library. Find more at: http://digital.lib.msu.edu/projects/africanjournals/

Available through a partnership with

Scroll down to read the article.
Social Development Issues

Social Development Issues (SDI) is an international refereed journal that serves as a forum for achieving linkages between multiple disciplines, nations, and cultures. Our purposes is to promote the consideration of issues of individuals and their communities. SDI is committed to the advancement of social, cultural, political and economic theory, policy and practice (and their inter-relationship) within a global context. Domestic social issues are appropriate provided they encompass such a perspective.

Manuscripts addressing developmental perspectives and research on international social justice are welcome, including lifespan, gender and racial issues, the impact of policies, practices, comparative health/mental health, poverty, income maintenance, and movements such as global feminism, human rights and peace.

Manuscript Guidelines

1. Scholarly articles should be 12-15 pages in length.
2. All pages must be typewritten, double spaced including references.
3. An abstract of 60 words or less must accompany all submissions except book reviews.
4. SDI follows the use of nonsexist language. Any materials deviating significantly will be returned to the author for revision.
5. Four copies must be submitted.
7. The author’s name, address, and telephone number must appear on a separate removable cover page. This is to ensure anonymity by review of the editorial board.
8. Send manuscripts and correspondence to: Managing Editor, Social Development Issues, the University of Iowa, School of Social Work, Iowa City, Iowa 52242.

Overseas subscription rates are: Individuals US$20, Institutions US$35, Students US$18, Single issues US$11. Write to: Social Development Issues, the University of Iowa Publication Services, Graphic Services Building, Iowa City, Iowa 52242.