Notes for Contributors

Manuscripts intended for publication should be sent in triplicate to the editor, or guest editor, as the case may be. Contributors are asked to adhere to the Journal's referencing system.

Normally, refereeing takes about six weeks, so authors can expect to hear from us within two months of our receipt of the manuscripts. Where less than three copies are supplied, the refereeing process will take longer, and the Journal accepts no responsibility for loss of manuscripts. Referee reports are sent to authors whose papers need modification.
