CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE HISTORY OF BANTU LINGUISTICS
C. M. Doke and D. T. Cole

A series of papers dealing with early research into the Bantu languages by Dr Doke while Professor of Bantu Languages in the University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg. Originally published in Bantu Studies and in African Studies between 1935 and 1943, and supplemented by Professor Cole's papers covering the period 1943 to 1960, this collection is a comprehensive review of African linguistic studies.

ENGLISH AND ZULU DICTIONARY
In two parts combined in paperback
C. M. Doke, D. Mck. Malcolm and J. M. A. Sikakana
Repr. 1977, 572 & 342 pp. R6

This dictionary meets the needs of the Zulu-speaker, who wishes to know the meaning and the idiomatic use of English words, and of the English-speaker who wishes to know how to render English into Zulu. The English and Zulu Dictionary has a very wide scope and gives close attention to words of particular South African importance, and especially those applicable to life in South Africa.

The second part of this work, the Zulu-English Vocabulary, is available separately. Repr. 1971, 342 pp. Cloth. R4.

ZULU ENGLISH DICTIONARY
C. M. Doke and B. W. Vilakazi

Prepared in the 1940s under the auspices of the Bantu Studies Department of the University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg and the Native Education Department of Natal, this work has remained one of the foremost dictionaries of its kind.
