This is a journal with an interdisciplinary focus in the social sciences. It is both theoretical and practical in nature, and seeks to confront and deal with every aspect of human development, covering all the socio-economic systems of the world. It has interest in such issues as basic social needs, fulfillment of human rights, avoidance of both class and other structural violence, the search for disarmament and peace, the maintenance of ecological balance, the removal of poverty and unemployment, improvement in North-South relations, and the finding of an international framework to deal equitably with trade, industrialization, migration, technology transfer, and general socio-economic disparities of a regional or a global kind.

Editor: Franklin Vivekananda

Articles from past and recent issues include:
Glyn Edwards and Clem Tisdell: Private Versus Government Schools: Race and the Development of Zimbabwe’s Dual Educational System
Amalendu Guha: Economic Alternative for the 21st Century: Market Economy or Welfare Economy?
Robert A. Flammang: Bilateral Begins: Blessing, Burden, or Both?

Manuscripts
Contributions that further the aims of the Journal are welcomed, and will be refereed. Manuscripts should be typed single-sided on A4 paper, single or double-spaced. Two copies of the article should be submitted and the author’s name, affiliation and address should be attached to the cover, to facilitate anonymity in the refereeing of the article. One copy should be of good quality print, preferably laser-printed, although this is not essential. The article can also be sent on computer disc, either in WP51 or Mac format. The article should begin with an abstract of approximately 200 words. In general the use of footnotes is discouraged. Essential footnotes should be kept to a minimum and typed consecutively at the end of the article. Within the body of the text references to authors is made by author, date and page number in the following way:

“We find that Makola (1982a:67) argues the view taken by Nkosana (1981). Another study (Makola, 1982b), however...”

Bibliographical references follow the body of the text and should be listed alphabetically and chronologically by author and date: in the case of books, by title, publisher and place of publication; in the case of articles by full journal name, volume, and first plus last page numbers; in the case of chapters, by title, collection title, editor, publisher and place of publication. Examples follow:
