PUBLICATION GUIDELINES:
We ask contributors to submit two (2) typed copies, following the format (on such issues as references and notes) of articles in this issue of TRANSFORMATION. Whilst the journal will cater for work at any level of abstraction, or detail, a number of criteria will guide the editors in selection of material for inclusion. Articles should aim for academic rigour but also clarify the political implications of the issues discussed. We are concerned not to compete with other South African journals that may cover related ground but in different ways — this will govern our selection principles. All articles will be assessed anonymously by referees. Contributions should preferably not exceed the following lengths:
Analytical articles: 7 000 words
Debates and review articles: 3 000 words

The views expressed in TRANSFORMATION do not necessarily reflect those of the editors.

RECOMMENDATIONS ON POST-APARTHEID ECONOMIC POLICY

A workshop held in Harare in March/April 1990 by representatives from the ANC, UDF, COSATU and the ET (Economic Trends) Group and aligned economists produced an important set of proposals on the economy and policy resolutions which we reproduce here.

DEMOCRATISING ECONOMIC GROWTH:
ALTERNATIVE GROWTH MODELS FOR THE FUTURE
After critically considering the different positions on models for economic growth in South Africa being urgently debated at the moment, STEPHEN GELB argues that dynamic development and greater equality need to be pursued as part of the same process and incorporated into a new kind of model.

A POLICY AGENDA FOR
POST-APARTHEID SOUTH AFRICA
Developing economic policy for the transition to a post-apartheid society will not be easy, argues RAPHIE KAPLINSKY. A critical grasp of existing forces in the economy and awareness of what is possible in the world conjuncture may yield a path of growth through redistribution.

MARKET-BASED OPTIONS FOR LAND REFORM
MICHAEL DE KLERK assumes that the land question in South Africa can and must be resolved through reform that rigorously considers market constraints and production needs while assisting black small farmers.

AGRICULTURE:CONFLICTS OF INTEREST
IN A MIXED ECONOMY
A discussion paper from within the ANC by HELENA DOLNY considers how equity can be pursued in a post-apartheid mixed economy in a way that will significantly redress the injustices of the current dispensation.
